

Products Liability

Our products liability group represents manufacturers, retailers, medical providers, automobile manufacturers and dealers in a variety of claims. We have experience in representing pharmaceutical manufacturers and pharmacists in cases alleging injuries caused by over-the-counter and prescription medications.

We represent manufacturers of products in asbestos cases and toxic-tort cases. Our products liability group also has experience representing clients in lead paint litigation and Chinese drywall claims.

The firm has handled litigation involving a variety of products including alcoholic beverages, apparel, chemicals, cosmetics, firearms, food and agricultural products, machinery and tools, medical products and devices, motor vehicle defects, pharmaceutical products, and recreational products.
